Call for Papers

Macroeconomic Risks, Uncertainty and Sustainability

Danmarks Nationalbank, Copenhagen, 12th – 13th October 2023

The tenth event of the conference series “New Development in Business Cycle Research” jointly organized by Norges Bank, Bundesbank and Danmarks Nationalbank is set to take place in Copenhagen on the 12th and 13th of October. This year's theme is "Macroeconomic Risks, Uncertainty, and Sustainability".

At a time of unprecedented global challenges, these issues have taken on a renewed importance across economies and societies worldwide. We are pleased to invite both empirical and theoretical papers that carry important insights for policy makers. Relevant themes include, but are not limited to:

- Inflation risks, inflation expectations and monetary policy
- Geopolitical risks and macroeconomic implications
- Macroeconomic risks associated with rising interest rates
- Macroeconomic risks and monetary/fiscal policy interactions at times of high debt
- Climate risks and the role of central banks in promoting sustainable economic growth and development

Olivier Coibion (University of Texas, Austin), Isabelle Mejean (Sciences Po), Rick van der Ploeg (Oxford University) and Gianluca Violante (Princeton University) will be the invited speakers for the event.

Papers for submission should be sent to research@nationalbanken.dk by May 21, 2023. Authors of accepted papers will be notified by Mid-June. A discussant will be assigned to each presenter. Travel and accommodation expenses will be reimbursed for academic participants, subject to a cap. The program for the previous editions of the New Developments in Business Cycle Analysis conference is available at <https://www.norges-bank.no/en/topics/Research/Conferences/2022-09-26-the-return-of-inflation/>

Program Committee: Francesco Furlanetto (Norges Bank), Mathias Hoffmann (Deutsche Bundesbank), Renato Faccini (Danmarks Nationalbank).
